Trump's U-turn: Plan to strike Iran dropped

PARISA HAFEZI, JOHN IRISH & SUSAN HEAVEY
Dubai/Washington, June 11

US PRESIDENT DONALD Trump called off planned military strikes against Iran on Thursday after negotiations reportedly reached the highest levels of Iran's leadership, raising hopes of a breakthrough in efforts to end more than three months of conflict. "The timing and place of signing the deal will be announced shortly," Trump announced on Truth Social.

This is a dramatic reversal of Trump's stand earlier in the day when he said the US would hit Iran "very hard tonight" and wanted at some point to take Iran's oil infrastructure hub Kharg Island, after strikes by both sides in the Gulf undermined a shaky ceasefire. Iranian sources and Western officials, however, said indirect US-Iranian talks on a preliminary peace deal had intensified.

I have...cancelled the scheduled strikes and bombings against Iran this evening. Discussions and final points have been...approved by all parties...Time and place of the signing to be announced shortly

PM urges states to harness trade deals, AI

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, June 11

FLAGGING CONCERNS OVER El Nino, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday urged states to strengthen water conservation and promote sustainable farming, while also calling for AI-driven skilling initiatives and greater efforts to leverage

India's trade agreements to create opportunities for the youth, micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs) and investments.

Addressing the 11th governing council meeting of the NITI Aayog, the prime minister emphasised that artificial intelligence (AI) should be viewed as an opportunity rather than a challenge and urged state governments to equip people with future-ready skills to harness the benefits of emerging technologies.

Referring to India's recently concluded trade agreements with several countries, Modi encouraged state governments to create opportunities for the youth and MSMEs and to equip stakeholders to effectively leverage the benefits arising from these agreements and attract investments from partner countries, according to Niti Aayog officials.

Banks seek clarity from RBI on foreign deposit leverage

CHRISTINA TITUS & KSHIPRA PETKAR
Mumbai, June 11

LENDERS HAVE SOUGHT clarity from the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on whether domestic banks can leverage the foreign currency non-resident bank [FCNR(B)] deposit scheme by extending loans to depositors through their overseas branches, bankers said.

This follows the RBI's decision to allow depositors to borrow from foreign banks for placing FCNR(B) deposits with Indian banks, while permitting Indian banks to issue letters of credit (LoCs) to support such borrowings. "It remains unclear whether the guidelines permit overseas branches of Indian banks to provide leverage to their own customers. The current rules do not explicitly

KEY QUESTIONS

■ Can overseas branches of Indian banks provide leverage to their own customers

■ Can a bank allow a client to borrow against an FCNR(B) deposit placed with it and then rebook that deposit

■ Earlier, under the FCNR(B) mobilisation scheme of 2013, overseas banks were permitted to lend to FCNR(B) account holders against a lien on their deposits address that scenario, and further clarification is needed," said a senior executive at a large private-sector bank.

The executive added that if such lending is permitted, the scheme would closely resemble the FCNR(B) mobilisation programme introduced in 2013. He expects the RBI to issue an additional circular clarifying the matter. Another senior official at a private-sector bank said the key driver of FCNR(B) deposit growth in 2013 was banks leveraging deposits themselves.

Amodei calls for mandatory testing and govt powers to block risky systems

Anthropic CEO raises the alarm, seeks 'serious & binding' AI rules

RISHI RAJ
New Delhi, June 11

ANTHROPIC CEO DARIO Amodei has called for mandatory testing and government oversight of advanced artificial intelligence models, highlighting that frontier systems now pose sufficiently serious cybersecurity, biological and national-security risks to warrant regulation similar to that applied to aircraft and pharmaceuticals.

In a policy essay published on Thursday, Amodei said the AI industry had moved beyond a phase where transparency and voluntary disclosures were adequate safeguards. Instead, governments should have the authority to evaluate and, where necessary, block the Mythos proves beyond doubt that AI models are now tools of global and national strategic consequence. The cyber risks that Mythos-class models present will not be the last that we must face deployment of advanced AI systems that present unacceptable risks.

"Now the risks are clearly here," Amodei wrote, adding that it was "time to go beyond transparency to more serious and binding regulation of AI".

The proposal marks a notable evolution in the debate around AI governance. Over the past two years, several leading AI firms, including Anthropic, have supported measures requiring developers to disclose safety practices, testing procedures and major incidents. Amodei wrote that while such measures helped policymakers better understand emerging risks, the rapid improvement in AI capabilities now requires a more interventionist approach.

Under Anthropic's proposed framework, AI models above a certain computing threshold would undergo mandatory third-party testing. The evaluations would focus on four areas: cybersecurity risks, biological threats, loss of control of AI systems, and the ability of AI to accelerate research that could amplify those risks.

Insolvency board puts fresh checks on lender powers

MANU KAUSHIK
New Delhi, June 11

A SET OF changes to the rules framed by the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Board of India (IBBI) imposes additional checks and balances on the committee of creditors' (CoC) actions during the resolution process of bankrupt entities.

Under the revised framework, notified through the IBBI (Insolvency Resolution Process for Corporate Persons) (Fourth Amendment) Regulations 2026, the CoC must now provide stronger justification for key decisions taken during the resolution process. For example, the lenders will not only have to consider fair and liquidation values while evaluating bids but also undertake a mandatory market discovery exercise, including a challenge mechanism, which was previously optional in many cases.

FAIR PROCESS

■ The insolvency regulator aims for greater transparency in CoC proceedings

■ Under new rules, CoCs have to give stronger justification for key decisions taken during resolution process

■ IBBI has sought to give operational creditors a greater voice in insolvency proceedings

■ The framework around resolution process costs has also been overhauled

The changes effectively suggest a shift from the long-standing principle that the CoC's commercial wisdom is beyond judicial review. Experts argue that the amendments introduce additional safeguards on lenders' decision-making to ensure greater transparency and value maximisation.

"IBBI is moving in the direction where the CoC's commercial wisdom will no longer be sacrosanct. CoC will have to justify every decision. It may defeat the purpose of IBC to be managed by lenders (CoC) under the supervision of National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT)," said Ashish Parvani, senior partner at Rajani Associates.

Chandra term extension not on Tata Sons board agenda

URVI MALYANIA
Mumbai, June 11

THE TATA SONS board will meet on Friday amid continuing governance-related tensions across the Tata ecosystem, with discussions expected to cover capital allocation in key businesses, and other strategic matters, even as developments within the Tata Trusts continue to attract attention.

However, people familiar with the matter said the issue of Tata Sons Chairman N Chandrasekaran's tenure may not come up for a discussion at this meeting, as Tata Trusts Chairman Noel Tata is understood to be seeking additional clarifications. A lengthy discussion on the subject at the May 26 board meeting remained inconclusive after the agenda ran out of time. Chandrasekaran's current term ends in 2027.

The board may review the long-pending issue of a potential Tata Sons listing. The matter has remained under scrutiny since the company sought deregistration as an upper-layer core investment company, a move that could eliminate the listing requirement. However, the proposal remains subject to regulatory approval.

World Bank sees India growing 6.6%

■ Fiscal deficits expected to widen due to higher subsidy aimed at cushioning impact of rising energy cost

THE WORLD BANK has marginally raised its growth forecast for India to 6.6% for FY27 from 6.5% projected earlier, citing resilient domestic demand, even as it lowered its global growth outlook for 2026 to 2.5% amid escalating conflict in West Asia.

In its June 2026 Global Economic Prospects report, the multilateral lender also revised its FY28 growth estimate for India by 0.6 percentage point to 7.2%.

“Despite heightened uncertainty related to the conflict, economic activity in India remained robust early this year, supported by resilient domestic demand,” the World Bank said, adding that private consumption, particularly in rural areas, has remained strong, while urban demand is showing signs of recovery.

The Bank noted that collections from domestic sales taxes have continued to rise steadily. To contain inflationary pressures stemming from higher energy costs and shortages of agricultural inputs, especially fertilisers, India has undertaken several measures, including reductions in fuel taxes.

However, the World Bank expects growth to moderate from 7.7% in FY26 to 6.6% in FY27, reflecting a slowdown in private demand growth amid elevated energy prices and other input costs. It added that recent reductions in Goods and

FOR COMMUTERS ON Mumbai's Metro Aqua Line 3, the frustration of losing mobile connectivity underground may soon be a thing of the past.

All three private telecom operators — Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel and Vodafone Idea (Vi) — have begun the process of enabling mobile services along the Aqua Line corridor, marking a major step towards providing seamless connectivity on one of Mumbai's newest transport links ahead of the monsoon season.

The move follows the resolution of a months-long dispute, with Mumbai Metro Rail Corporation (MMRCL) granting right of way to telecom operators to deploy their network across the underground metro corridor.

Airtel and Vodafone Idea have already commenced a phased rollout of services. Mobile connectivity is now available across the Phase I stretch between SEEPZ and

States chart path to Viksit Bharat

AS INDIA SHARPENS its focus on becoming a developed nation by 2047, the 11th Governing Council meeting of NITI Aayog on Thursday turned into a showcase of the diverse ambitions and development blueprints of states, with chief ministers presenting roadmaps centred on human capital, technology, infrastructure and inclusive growth.

Chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the meeting revolved around the theme of “Inclusive Human Development for Viksit Bharat @2047”, with states outlining strategies tailored to their strengths while aligning with the national vision.

Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath highlighted the importance of human development, good governance and public participation, saying empowerment of every citizen remained central to the state's development model.

Tamil Nadu Chief Minister C Joseph Vijay used his maiden address at the forum to seek a high-speed rail corridor connecting Chennai and Kaniyakkumari, enhanced climate-resilience funding, and greater support for the state's ambitions in space manufacturing, skills and technology.

Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu unveiled the Swarna Andhra 2047 vision, aiming to transform the state into a globally competitive economy through technology-led governance, deep-tech adoption, skilling and infrastructure expansion.

Jharkhand Chief Minister Hemant Soren pushed for the release of pending dues worth

₹1.36 lakh crore and called for support to transform the mineral-rich state into a manufacturing, innovation and research hub.

Technology emerged as a recurring theme. Odisha Chief Minister Mohan Charan Majhi showcased AI-driven governance initiatives, while Sikkim highlighted its newly established AI Centre of Excellence. Mizoram detailed programmes focused on digital literacy, entrepreneurship and future-ready skills, targeting a one per cent share in India's GDP by 2047.

Developing nations can't pay imbalance costs, says FM

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, June 11

FINANCE MINISTER NIRMALA Sitharaman on Thursday said India is expected to remain one of the world's fastest-growing major economies, with GDP growth projected at around 7% over the medium term, while cautioning that the responsibility for correcting global economic imbalances should not fall disproportionately on the developing nations.

Addressing the Global Convergence for Growth Summit virtually, chaired by French President Emmanuel Macron, Sitharaman joined leaders from G7 nations to discuss measures to support balanced global growth through a more effective international economic framework.

“The burden of adjustment should not fall disproportionately on countries that are not the drivers of these imbalances. India, like many developing economies, remains largely peripheral to both the origination and propagation of global imbalances; yet, we continue to face their spillover effects,” she said, speaking on behalf of Global South, according to a post by the finance ministry on X.

The finance minister underscored the need for greater international cooperation at a time of rising geopolitical tensions and economic uncertainty.

This trend is reflected in the capital outlay-to-revenue expenditure ratio, which is budgeted to remain elevated at 0.20 in FY27. The ratio has been on an upward trajectory since FY22, aided in part by the Centre's Scheme for Special Assistance to States for Capital Investment, under which states are provided 50-year interest-free loans to support capital expenditure.

TRAI FILINGS BACK SUBSCRIBER-NETWORK ACCOUNTABILITY MODEL

Telcos push for control of customer consent records

URVI MALYANIA
Mumbai, June 11

PRIVATE TELECOM OPERATORS—Bharti Airtel, Reliance Jio and Vodafone Idea—have urged the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) to revise key aspects of the proposed Digital Consent Acquisition (DCA) framework, arguing that customer consent should be managed by the telecom operator serving the subscriber rather than intermediary entities that lack a direct consumer relationship.

In separate submissions to the regulator, reviewed by FE, the operators contended that the current structure risks creating a disconnect between responsibility and accountability, particularly in areas such as consent management, complaint resolution and consumer protection.

“OAP-only TSPs (without subscriber base) should be disallowed from acting as primary consent custodians or from independently uploading consent records on the DLT platform,” the operators have argued.

The DCA framework seeks to establish a standardised mechanism for obtaining and managing customer consent for commercial communica-

DATA ACCOUNTABILITY

■ Industry opposes consent control by intermediary OAP-only players

■ Operators seek curbs on OAPs uploading consent records independently

■ Telcos flag accountability gaps in the proposed DCA framework

■ Enterprises should route consent via customers’ serving operators

■ Serving telcos are best placed to verify and manage consent

■ Operators warn of misuse if intermediaries control consent databases tions as part of broader efforts to curb spam and unsolicited messages.

Under the proposed system, brands would be allowed to send promotional messages only to customers who have explicitly consented to receive them. Before a message is delivered, the Distributed Ledger Technology (DLT) platform would verify the availability of consent. Messages without valid consent would be blocked.

“Principal Entities (Pes) should be directed to obtain DCA services exclusively from the serving TAP of the customer,” the operators have suggested. PE are the enterprises that use telecom networks to send out commercial communication to customers.

At the centre of the industry’s recommendations is the role of Originating Access Providers (OAPs), which facilitate the origination of commercial communications on behalf of enterprises. They are intermediaries aggregators who do not necessarily directly service consumers like Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel and Vodafone Idea do.

The operators argued that some OAPs function without a meaningful subscriber base of their own, allowing them to participate in consent management and message origination without bearing direct responsibility towards end users.

“An OAP-only entity cannot claim accountability towards subscribers because it neither serves nor has any direct relationship with them. Consumer protection and accountability can only be ensured when the entity responsible for managing consent also has a direct relationship with the subscriber,” the telcos have argued.

The telecom operators have instead proposed that consent records be stored, validated and managed by the customer’s telecom operator, known as the Terminating Access Provider (TAP), which maintains the direct relationship with the subscriber.

Tata Sons sees 11.7% decline in payouts from group companies

DEV CHATTERJEE
Mumbai, June 11

THE BOARD OF Tata Sons, the holding company of the Tata Group, is scheduled to meet on Friday against the backdrop of an 11.7% decline in dividend income from group companies in FY26 and increasing funding requirements from loss-making businesses such as Air India, Tata Digital and Tata Teleservices. Friday’s meeting is expected to assume added significance as Tata Sons is likely to approve its annual accounts and decide on the dividend payout to shareholders. The Tata Trusts, the group’s principal shareholder, depends heavily on Tata Sons dividends to fund its charitable activities, making the holding company’s payout a key source of funding for its philanthropic initiatives.

Tata Sons received ₹33,495 crore in dividends in FY26, down from ₹37,932 crore in FY25, primarily because of a lower payout from its largest asset, Tata Consultancy Services (TCS). Tata Sons is set to receive ₹28,567 crore from TCS for FY26—₹4,155 crore less than in the previous year.

The holding company also raised ₹7,498 crore through the listing of Tata Capital in September last year, bolstering its cash reserves. In FY25, Tata Sons had paid a dividend of ₹64,900 per share at the rate of 6490%—far higher than previous year’s (FY2024) 3500%. The dividend involved a cash outflow of ₹2,622.91 crore as compared to previous year’s dividend payout of ₹1,414.51 crore.

A source said the group is not facing any financial constraints to meet funding requirements as TSPL can sell part of its holdings in the listed entities or may even list its profit making unlisted subsidiaries.

Even so, funding requirements at Air India, Tata Digital and Tata Teleservices remain a key concern. The board is expected to review the capital needs of these businesses and discuss how Tata Sons plans to meet them.

Presentations made to the board last month projected that both Air India and Tata Digital would remain loss-making for the next three years. Air India reported a higher-than-expected loss of ₹26,798 crore in FY26, while Tata Digital posted a loss of about ₹5,000 crore.

In contrast, semiconductor venture Tata Electronics is expected to report a marginal profit, aided by government subsidies for semiconductor manufacturing. In FY26, Tata Electronics had reported revenues of ₹1.31 lakh crore and made a marginal profit of ₹500 crore.

Tata Sons also infused an additional ₹5,166 crore into loss-making telecom subsidiary Tata Teleservices during FY26 to enable payment of government dues. Under an undertaking given to the Supreme Court, the company is required to make similar payments annually over the next five years.

The fall in dividends also highlights a broader capital allocation challenge facing the group.

While companies such as TCS, Tata Steel and Titan generate substantial cash, several of the group’s newer businesses are still consuming capital in pursuit of growth and market share.

For Tata Sons, the ₹33,495-crore dividend haul provides ample financial flexibility. Yet the 11.7% drop from the previous year serves as a reminder that the cash-generating capacity of its operating companies remains central to funding the Tata group’s long-term ambitions.

TCS deepens enterprise AI push via Anthropic tie-up

URVI MALYANIA
Mumbai, June 11

TATA CONSULTANCY SERVICES (TCS) has entered into a global strategic partnership with Anthropic, adding the maker of Claude to its enterprise artificial intelligence (AI) portfolio and strengthening its ability to deliver AI solutions across multiple frontier-model platforms.

Under the agreement, announced on Thursday, TCS will become a Global Premier Partner in Anthropic’s Claude Partner Network, set up a dedicated business unit focused on Claude-based solutions and jointly develop industry-specific AI applications for enterprises.

“Enterprise AI value comes from understanding business context, orchestrating complex systems, and applying deep AI engineering talent. By combining Claude with our industry expertise, engineering rigor, and large-scale transformation capabilities, we will help customers move faster to production, especially in industries where trust, resilience, and regulatory discipline are critical.

This partnership reflects TCS’ broader strategy to help clients become perpetually adaptive enterprises by turning frontier AI into transformation at enterprise scale,” K Krithivasan, chief executive officer and managing director, TCS, said.

The agreement expands TCS’ AI go-to-market strategy, which already includes a strategic partnership with OpenAI, part of a broader Tata Group partnership with OpenAI, announced earlier this year.

Under the OpenAI alliance, TCS is working on internal AI deployments, joint product development and global go-to-market programmes, while also helping enterprises deploy, integrate and scale OpenAI AI platforms. The companies are additionally collaborating on industry-specific agentic AI solutions.

“This partnership reflects our shared conviction that AI will be foundational and transformative for enterprises worldwide. By combining Anthropic’s capabilities with Tata Group’s scale, we will accelerate enterprise reinvention,” N Chandrasekaran, chairman, Tata Sons and TCS, said.

PVR Inox eyes net debt-free status in FY27, retains plans

MULTIPLEX OPERATOR PVR Inox is aiming to become net debt-free in FY27 and has retained its growth and expansion guidance for the year, encouraged by a strong start to the fiscal and a robust content slate lined up for the coming quarters.

“Our net-debt levels have significantly come down. If things remain the way they are, we should be able to become net-debt zero in this financial year,” Sanjeev Kumar Bijli, executive director, PVR Inox, told FE in an interaction.

The company, India’s largest multiplex chain, ended FY26 with a net debt of ₹161.9 crore, a sharp decline of nearly 90% from ₹1,430.4 crore at the time of the PVR-Inox merger in FY23. PVR Inox plans to add over 100 screens in FY27 across metro cities, tier-2 cities and smaller markets, while continuing to pursue an asset-light expansion model.

The company has also retained its capital expenditure guidance at ₹375–400 crore for the year.

Admissions in Q1 of FY27 have risen nearly 10% so far versus the same period last year, Bijli said, with April and May delivering healthy footfalls. This has been driven by Hollywood and regional cinema and comes at a time when heatwaves have been growing and demand conditions have been uneven owing to the Iran war.

Among English films to draw footfalls during the April-May period include Michael Jackson, Devil Wears Prade 2,

SANJEEV KUMAR BIJLI, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, PVR INOX

The consumption story in India is fairly intact...people are still spending domestically on goods and services and entertainment and Obsession, a surprise hit worldwide and in India. These films have cumulatively grossed collections of nearly ₹140-150 crore at the Indian box office so far, according to trade analysts.

Successful regional films in April-May include Deool Band 2, Malayalam film Drishyam 3, which has crossed the ₹100-crore mark and Suriya-starrer Tamil film Karuppu, which crossed ₹200 crore in India collections. Ram-Charan-starrer Peddi, which released on June 4 has collected over ₹187 crore so far.

The multiplex operator, however, is counting on several key releases still scheduled for the remainder of June. This includes Jailer 2, the Tamil-language sequel to the 2023 hit of the same name, starring Rajinikanth, which releases on June 12; Cocktail 2, starring Shahid Kapoor, Kriti Sanon and Rashmika Mandanna, which releases on June 19, and Welcome to the Jungle, starring Akshay Kumar, which releases on June 26.

Despite concerns around inflationary pressures, geopolitical tensions in West Asia and stress on discretionary spending, Bijli believes consumer demand for entertainment remains intact, at least for now.

“The consumption story in India is fairly intact. People are still spending domestically on goods and services and entertainment” he said.

He added that cinemas are relatively insulated from extreme weather conditions, with summer months often proving favourable for exhibitors.

Looking ahead, the company expects momentum to strengthen further as the release calendar becomes more crowded from Q2.

While Hindi cinema has had a relatively subdued start to the ongoing fiscal, Bijli expects bigger Hindi releases from July onwards to boost occupancy and box-office collections.

The upcoming slate includes Alia Bhatt-starrer Alpha, Dhamaal 4, Sanjay Leela Bhansali’s Love & War and Aamir Khan-produced Batwara 1947, King, Ramayana: Part 1 among others.

Among Hollywood films are upcoming releases such as Spider-Man: Brand New Day, Avengers: Domsday and Dune: Part 3 among others.

Report to miss deadline with GE engines probe pending

INVESTIGATORS WILL MISS Friday’s one-year deadline to explain why an Air India jetliner crashed right after takeoff because an examination of the Boeing plane’s engines in the US still needs to be completed, according to people familiar with the matter.

Instead, India’s Aircraft Accident Investigation Bureau will likely issue a status report this week focused on the reasons behind the delay, the people said. A final report is then expected within three months, the people said, asking not to be named because the information is confidential.

Studies of the GE Aerospace engines should be concluded by then. The examination is occurring in the US because there are only a few places globally that can dismantle engines properly and have the necessary tools to do so, one of the people said. One year after AI171 crash, safety reforms reshape Air India

NITIN KUMAR & AKBAR MERCHANT
New Delhi/Mumbai, June 11

ONE YEAR AFTER Air India flight AI171 crashed shortly after take-off from Ahmedabad, killing 241 people onboard, the 241 and aviation regulators say a series of measures introduced since the accident have strengthened oversight of aircraft operations, fleet reliability and crew fatigue management. The crash, one of the deadliest aviation accidents involving an Indian carrier in recent decades, prompted heightened scrutiny of Air India’s operations and accelerated regulatory efforts to strengthen safety monitoring across the sector. For Air India, the accident came at a crucial stage in the Tata Group’s turnaround of the airline. While fleet renewal and network expansion were already underway, safety and operational reliability moved to the centre of the transformation effort following the crash.

The airline undertook detailed inspections of its Boeing 787-8 and 787-9 fleet under the supervision of the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA), while introducing additional pre-flight checks and maintenance reviews. According to Air India, the inspections did not identify any safety concerns. Separate inspections of fuel control switch mechanisms on Boeing 737 and Boeing 787 aircraft also yielded no findings. Since then, the carrier has

LG leans on India to win the future AI home race

ANEESS HUSSAIN
Seoul, June 11

LG ELECTRONICS EXPECTS its smart home of the future, with appliances that learn your routines and robots that do the chores, to find some of its biggest buyers in India, even as its growing manufacturing capacity in the country is increasingly being geared to making those same export-ready premium, AI-led products. This dual push now sits at the centre of the South Korean major's plan to double revenue from three emerging markets, India, Saudi Arabia and Brazil, by 2030, chief executive Iyu Jae-cheol said.

On the consumer side, the idea is what LG calls the "Zero Labour Home", a home where the housework is done for you, or left to you only if you choose to. For now, that means smart LG appliances that learn a household's habits through on-device intelligence, tied together by an app called ThinQ that lets the home run by phone or voice and coordinates everything once the routines are set. ThinQ, which started as a simple app to control LG appliances from a phone, has kept getting smarter through automatic software updates, and now works with more than 50,000 devices from hundreds of brands through an open ecosystem.

Its most futuristic vision of a home comes through CLOiD, a humanoid home robot LG unveiled at CES 2026. It is designed to move through a home on its own, interact with the people in it and the appliances around it, and take on chores. It is not on sale yet, with a commercial launch targeted before 2030.

But the shift CLOiD points to, towards premium, con-ected, AI-led appliances, is already underway in India. "India is entering a transformative phase of home appliance premiumisation," said Young Min Hwang, director, home solutions, LG Electronics India, citing rapid adoption of premium products. Some pieces of the AI home are already on shelves, from AI Wash 2.0 washing machines to other ThinQ-connected appliances with app control and remote diagnostics. Meanwhile, demand for large-panel televisions, French-door refrigerators, fully automatic washing machines and 5-star air conditioners is climbing, lifting average selling prices through the last year, it said, driven by rising incomes, rapid urbanisation and a wave of home upgrades.

But India is not only trading up. It is also buying in. The country is already LG's single largest market in the world for room air conditioners, by industry estimates. However, appliance penetration is still just 20-30%, so unlike mature markets driven by replacement, India has millions of people buying their first appliance.

Increasingly, India is also where LG plans to build. Its plants at Greater Noida and Pune are being folded into the global AI roadmap so next-generation components are made locally. A third and larger plant, a roughly Rs 5,000 crore investment, is rising at Sri City in Andhra Pradesh; it starts late this year, making air conditioners first, then refrigerators, washing machines and AC compressors through 2029. Investor relations head Aeron Kim said LG plans to double its India capacity and lift exports well above the current 6-7%.

Opendoor shuts India operations, lays off 250

US-BASED REAL estate firm Opendoor will shutter its India operations and lay off all 250 employees in the country as it shifts to greater use of AI, Chief Executive Kaz Nejatian said in a post on X on Thursday.

The layoffs come amid growing concerns that advances in artificial intelligence (AI) could displace entry-level and back-office jobs, while US policymakers increasingly push for more work to be carried out locally.

Founded in 2014, Opendoor operates a digital residential real estate platform that allows consumers to buy and sell homes online. The move comes two years after the company expanded its footprint by opening offices in the southern Indian cities of Hyderabad and Bengaluru.

"For years Opendoor built a large team in India to handle manual workflows across fragmented systems," the CEO said.

"As we've unified these systems and have hired small AI-native customer-facing teams throughout the US, we need all this operational work to be done in person and close to our customers."

GIFT City aims to emerge as aviation leasing hub

Sanjay Kaul, MD & CEO of GIFT City

NARAYANAN V
Chennai, June 11

GUJARAT INTERNATIONAL FINANCE Tec-City (GIFT City), home to India's only International Financial Services Centre (IFSC), is seeking to emerge as a hub for aviation leasing. With Indian airlines expected to add around 2,200 aircraft over the next decade, GIFT City sees a significant opportunity in aircraft leasing and aviation finance.

"Right now, the aircraft is flying in one place while the financing is happening somewhere else. What we aspire to do is bring that financing activity here," said Sanjay Kaul, MD and Group CEO of GIFT City, during a media interaction on Thursday.

At present, Dublin is the global hub for aircraft leasing and aviation finance, accounting for more than 60% of the world's leased commercial aircraft fleet. Other established centres include Dubai and Singapore. "I wouldn't say I want to register another 1,000 aircraft next year. The first objective is to bring the leasing business to India. Over time, we would like GIFT City to evolve into a centre where leasing and financing activities for other countries are also conducted, similar to what happens in Dublin, Dubai and Singapore," Kaul said.

As of March 2026, GIFT City had registered 35 aircraft lessors and facilitated the leasing of 373 aviation assets, including aircraft, engines and auxiliary power units. Aviation financing worth $615 million had also been routed through banking units operating in the IFSC as of December 2025.

Union Civil Aviation Minister Kinjarapu Ram Mohan Naidu last month said nearly 150 aircraft belonging to airlines such as IndiGo, Air India and Akasa Air are expected to be leased through GIFT City over the next two years.

Kaul said India's efforts to strengthen the legal framework governing aircraft repossession have improved lender confidence. While India had signed the Cape Town Convention, lenders remained cautious because of concerns around enforcement and aircraft recovery in cases of default.

US MILITARY PRESENCE RAISES RISKS FOR GULF STATES TODAY

Iran's strikes expose Gulf states' US dependence

VIVIAN NEREIM
Riyadh, June 11

AS IRANIAN DRONES and missiles bombarded Gulf Arab countries over the past few months, killing civilians and damaging critical infrastructure, the public has responded with outrage.

But few commentators or officials in these authoritarian monarchies have mentioned the awkward fact that the Iranian government has kept repeating in justifying its attacks: The targeted countries host sprawling US military bases and thousands of American military personnel at a time when the United States is waging war against Iran.

"There is this weird omertà almost about stating the obvious," said David B. Roberts, a Gulf expert at King's College London.

"They feel that they need these bases as a mechanism of fundamental defense," he explained. "At the same time, it creates this vector of insecurity that we are seeing at its fullest extent right now. They don't know what to do."

The US-Israeli war with Iran has highlighted a contradiction in the Gulf countries' dependence on the United States. They host American military bases partly in an effort to deter Iranian attacks. But now, Iran claims that those bases are the very reason it is attacking them, spraying thousands of missiles and drones at US allies.

'West Asia war slowing global growth'

THE NEW YORK TIMES
June 11

THE WAR IN West Asia is slowing global economic growth this year to its weakest pace since the Covid-19 pandemic, according to a World Bank report published on Thursday that revealed the fallout of soaring energy prices.

The US-Israeli attack on Iran in late February has led to a prolonged disruption of cargo traffic through the Strait of Hormuz, causing oil, gas and fertilizer prices to gyrate for months. The disruption to global supply chains has fanned a new round of inflation,

Rift over frozen funds

EFFORTS TO REACH an interim deal to end hostilities between Iran and the United States have intensified, Iranian and western sources told Reuters on Thursday, despite strikes launched by both sides, with the warring parties discussing how to release frozen Iranian funds.

The sources said Iran and the US were still exchanging messages over details of a memorandum of understanding amid the ongoing confrontation between Tehran and Washington.

2.9% t it grew in 2025. It estimated that output could fall to 1.3% if the conflict escalated and supply disruptions were protracted.

The conflict appeared to be escalating on Thursday, when President Trump threatened additional attacks on Iran and a takeover of its energy infrastructure.

After more than four years of persistent inflation, the war is pushing prices higher again. The World Bank projects that global inflation will rise to 4% in 2026 from 3.3 % last year. The increase is being driven by a 22% rise in commodity prices.

THE REGULATOR IS understood to have informally conveyed its reluctance to grant an exemption, arguing that such a decision could create a precedent for other large conglomerates whose holding companies have direct or indirect access to public funds. Directors are likely to revisit presentations made at the May 26 board meeting, when three group companies outlined their performance, investment plans and growth strategies. Among the issues expected to come up is Tata Digital's reported request for a capital infusion of around ₹7,000 crore as it continues to invest in its digital commerce and consumer platforms. Another area of discussion could be Tata Trusts' representation on the Tata Sons board. The Trusts, which hold about 66% of Tata Sons, are entitled to three nominee directors. One position has remained vacant following the non-renewal of Vijay Singh's term. Directors may consider whether the vacancy should be filled and, if so, the timing and profile of a potential appointee. Tata veteran Bhaskar Bhat, who joined the board of the Sir Dorabji Tata Trust last year, is among the names being discussed in Tata circles. The meeting comes against the backdrop of continuing governance-related developments within the Tata Trusts. While a Trusts meeting held on June 8 was largely uneventful, questions have continued to surface elsewhere.

At a recent meeting of the Tata Education and Development Trust (TEDT), former trustee Mehli Mistry was understood to have questioned whether Venu Srinivasan and Vijay Singh should continue on affiliated trust bodies after ceasing to be TEDT trustees.

Separately, Mistry has filed fresh objections before the Maharashtra Charity Commissioner relating to matters at the Sir Ratan Tata Trust.

Anthropic CEO...

THE GOVERNMENT, ACCORDING to the proposal, should have the power to block or deter deployment of systems deemed unsafe, based on the outcome of those assessments. AI developers would also be required to maintain stronger security standards, conduct regular red-team testing and promptly report serious safety incidents.

Amodei compared advanced AI systems to technologies such as commercial aviation and medicines, where independent testing and regulatory oversight are considered prerequisites for public deployment. He pointed out that existing policy approaches were struggling to keep pace with the speed of AI development.

AI was advancing far faster than traditional policymaking cycles, he said. While governments often take years to legislate, he said, AI systems had progressed within a few years from limited capabilities to performing increasingly complex tasks across software development, science, mathematics and other knowledge-intensive domains.

Beyond regulation, the essay also addressed the economic implications of increasingly capable AI systems. Amodei warned that AI could eventually become a substitute for a broad range of cognitive work, creating the possibility of sustained labour-market disruption even as overall economic growth accelerates.

He urged governments to expand efforts to measure AI's impact on employment and consider interventions such as wage insurance, worker-retention incentives, workforce training programmes and, if required, longer-term income support mechanisms.

"The key challenge in such a world won't be incentivising growth, but finding a way for everyone to share in the benefits," he wrote.

The essay also framed AI as a strategic technology with implications extending beyond commercial competition. Amodei said that countries leading in advanced AI could gain significant economic and military advantages, making AI policy increasingly intertwined with national-security considerations. He backed tighter controls on the supply chain supporting advanced AI development, including export restrictions on leading-edge semiconductors and chipmaking equipment. Amodei also called for closer coordination among democratic nations on AI regulation, security standards and deployment policies. The recommendations come amid growing scrutiny of frontier AI systems by governments across the US, Europe and parts of Asia. Regulators have increasingly focused on issues ranging from misinformation and copyright disputes to concerns over cybersecurity, critical infrastructure and the potential impact of AI on employment. While much of the global policy discussion to date has centred on transparency, disclosure requirements and voluntary commitments from technology companies, Amodei's essays signals a broader shift within parts of the industry towards formal safety certification and regulatory oversight of the most advanced AI models.

Insolvency board puts fresh checks...

ECB hikes with Lagarde warning inflation risk

BLOOMBERG
JUNE 11

THE EUROPEAN CENTRAL Bank raised interest rates for the first time in almost three years, with President Christine Lagarde warning inflation triggered by the Iran war is widening beyond just energy.

The deposit rate was lifted to 2.25% from 2%, as anticipated by economists and investors who foresee another quarter-point move in September. The ECB reiterated it won't pre-commit but said it remains well positioned to navigate the current unpredictability.

The shock is starting to broaden "throughout the economy, with direct costs being obvious, with indirect costs also showing up," President Christine Lagarde told reporters in Frankfurt, rejecting the idea that Thursday's unanimous decision was a pre-emptive move.

"The main risk would be not to take that kind of decision, because if you let inflation start running out without control, then it becomes a much more difficult situation to bring it back to the level of price stability," she said.

European bonds held gains after the ECB's announcement, with the 10-year yield three basis points lower at 3.05%. The euro was steady against the dollar at $1.1538.

"The outlook remains

CHRISTINE LAGARDE,
PRESIDENT, ECB

The shock is starting to broaden throughout the economy, with direct costs being obvious uncertain, with upside risks for inflation and downside risks for economic growth," the ECB said in a statement. "The full implications of the war for medium-term inflation and growth will depend on the intensity and duration of the energy price shock, as well as the scale of its indirect and second-round effects."

The hike is the first policy reaction by a major central bank to the jump in oil prices triggered by the Middle East conflict. With the fighting now in its fourth month, officials in the euro area worry that inflation is broadening beyond energy and won't simply be tamed by a US-Iran peace deal, even if one materializes soon.

Those fears are reflected in fresh quarterly projections showing consumer prices advancing more quickly this year than previously envisaged, before easing back to the 2% target in 2028. But underscoring the bind for the ECB, the new outlook also points to dwindling economic growth as inflation and higher borrowing costs sap buying power.

"The war in the Middle East is weighing on activity, and surveys are pointing to a slowdown, especially in services," Lagarde said. "The increase in energy prices will lift inflation further over the summer and keep it well above target into the first half of 2027."

She played down risks to the euro zone's 21-nation economy from tighter monetary policy after the first quarter saw a contraction caused by a slump in Ireland.

"It's not as if we are in an environment where growth is absent or under significant threat," Lagarde said.

The ECB came close to acting in April and even some of its most dovish policymakers suggested in the run-up to this week's meeting that there's now no real alternative.

US weekly jobless claims increase marginally

REUTERS
Washington, June 11

THE NUMBER OF Americans filing claims for unemployment benefits increased marginally last week, pointing to continued labor market resilience in early June. Initial claims for state unemployment benefits rose 4,000 to a seasonally adjusted 229,000 for the week ended June 6, the Labor Department said on Thursday.

Economists polled by Reuters had forecast 219,000 claims for the latest week. Claims tend to rise at the start of summer as some states allow non-teaching staff to file for unemployment benefits during the long school holidays.

Seasonal factors, the model used by the government to strip out seasonal fluctuations from the data, do not always capture these moves. The economy notched a third straight month of strong employment gains in May, the government reported last week. The unemployment rate remained at 4.3%, the third month in a row. Some of the strength in job growth is likely from low layoffs. A National Federation of Independent Business survey this week showed its employment measure dropped in May for the third consecutive month, while the share of owners planning to create new jobs in the next three months fell to a six-year low. Economists say hiring has been constrained by policy uncertainty, including import tariffs last year and now the US-led war with Iran. The number of people receiving unemployment benefits after an initial week of aid increased 24,000 to a seasonally adjusted 1.795 million during the week ended May 30, the claims report showed.

Look beyond gross FDI

Concerns about foreign investments must shift from quantity to quality

CAPITAL SCARCITY AND inefficient allocation of investment funds remain among the principal reasons India's economic performance falls short of its ambitions. On both counts, the situation has worsened in recent years. The incremental capital output ratio has risen above 5, implying that the economy's sustainable growth rate without risking overheating is only around 6.5%. While domestic savings remain the foundation of capital formation, foreign direct investment (FDI) is critical for a capital-deficient economy. India needs large pools of patient, non-debt capital to build infrastructure, expand technology-intensive manufacturing, and support high-growth digital industries that will underpin future growth. Foreign investments that merely replace domestic capital create far less value. Historically, much of such capital has flowed into software, telecom, and services, seeking a share of existing profits rather than creating new productive capacity in manufacturing or infrastructure.

At first glance, FDI inflows appear reasonably healthy. India attracted more than $80 billion each in three of the last five financial years, with inflows touching a record $94.5 billion, or 2.6% of GDP, in FY26. India's position as the world's 15th-largest FDI destination compares favourably with China's fourth rank, considering the vast difference in economic size. Moreover, countries such as Singapore, Luxembourg, and Hong Kong owe much of their FDI prominence to their role as financial intermediaries. The real concern lies elsewhere. Net FDI inflows have slowed sharply. From a negligible 0.03% of GDP in 1991, net inflows rose steadily after liberalisation and peaked at 3.62% in 2008. They remained around 1.5-2% of GDP through much of the following decade before declining rapidly. By FY25, inward and outward flows had nearly converged. In FY26, net FDI amounted to just $7.65 billion, or barely 0.2% of GDP.

Part of the widening gap between gross and net FDI reflects rising outward investments and faster repatriation of capital and profits. Equally important is the composition of India's FDI stock. A significant share consists of brownfield investments, where foreign investors acquire existing assets without necessarily participating in management or creating new capacity. Such investments can be exited relatively easily. By contrast, capital committed to greenfield factories or infrastructure projects remains invested over much longer periods, with returns tied to the project's life cycle. In this sense, a portion of India's FDI resembles portfolio capital, blurring the distinction between long-term direct investment and so-called "hot money". This also explains recurring policy debates over the regulatory treatment of the two. The argument that rising outward investments simply reflect India's economic maturity is unconvincing when domestic capital expenditure remains subdued. To some extent, these outflows also indicate a tightening of domestic resource allocation, driven partly by risk diversification among wealthy investors.

Despite optimistic rhetoric, foreign investors remain unconvinced about India's prospects as a manufacturing powerhouse. Persistent constraints such as skill shortages, technology gaps, infrastructure deficiencies, and institutional inefficiencies continue to weigh on investment decisions. Greater tax certainty, easier compliance, and predictable exit mechanisms are among the reforms investors consistently seek. The reported proposal to reduce the period foreign investors must spend pursuing remedies in Indian courts from five years to two before accessing international arbitration is a welcome step. However, any revision of the Bilateral Investment Treaty framework should also remove the requirement that investors exhaust local remedies before seeking arbitration abroad. Given India's judicial delays, that condition remains a significant deterrent to long-term foreign investment.

SpaceX's IPO success may rub off on Ambani

THE INSATIABLE INVESTOR demand for Elon Musk's SpaceX will be music to the ears of another billionaire half a world away.

In India, Mukesh Ambani's digital empire is headed for an IPO expected to be the biggest in the nation's history. Until recently, the tycoon's team may have wondered if the knock-on effects of the Iran war would choke the liquidity required for Jio Platforms' IPO. But with global institutions writing $10 billion checks for Musk's rockets and satellites, it's clear there is no dearth of demand for mega-tech; or for tech-adjacent businesses like Ambani's data carriage, e-commerce, and media play.

Nor is this euphoria a flash in the pan. The momentum sparked by Alphabet's upsized $85-billion equity raise — with OpenAI and possibly Meta Platforms next in line — suggests the party is far from over.

At its core, Jio is a telecom juggernaut with 525 million subscribers. Were the staggering volume of data they guzzle in a year to be represented by the storage capacity of high-end iPhones, the resulting stack of devices laid on top of one another would leave the earth's atmosphere. With customers paying ₹214 rupees a month on average, Jio garners $15 billion in operational revenue, at a 52% Ebitda margin. Street estimates for its worth are clustered around $130 billion.

But realising a market price that validates that figure is tricky. Jio is fundamentally an emerging-market story, and global investors have recently been pulling money out of the asset class, wary of stretched valuations. India has been particularly badly hit, with foreigners dumping more than $37 billion of equities over the past year.

Jio's marquee Silicon Valley backers such as Google and Meta came in during the pandemic when digitisation was the craze. Six years later, their attention is fixated on AI. Ambani's ambition of providing low-cost AI products to enterprises and consumers via a partnership with Mark Zuckerberg's Meta may well become a future revenue source for Jio. Pushing out AI-generated mythological and fantasy content via its media outlets could be another. But this isn't the kind of AI innovation that now excites big-ticket international investors.

That leaves Ambani's IPO, the first from his sprawling conglomerate in over two decades, largely to the appetite of domestic savers. And his isn't the only one. Quick-commerce firm Zepto has filed updated paperwork for a $1-billion issue. An asset manager, a lender against gold, and India's largest stock exchange are all lining up to raise equity. Can local capital carry them past the finish line?

This is where the RBI enters the play as a deus ex machina. In a bid to shore up a drooping currency, it recently announced it would absorb the hedging costs for banks raising deposits from the Indian diaspora. If, say, $50 billion rushes inward through this channel, it will inject rupee liquidity into a parched banking system. Even after the central bank mops up some of the excess, the residual windfall is likely to gravitate toward the stock market. So yes, local institutions and retail savers may have the stomach for Jio's $4 billion float.

Yet, this engineered triumph is precisely where Ashish Gupta urges extreme caution. The former Credit Suisse analyst, whose 2012 "House of Debt" report became a prescient warning of the bankruptcies that followed India Inc's unsustainable leverage, wants investors to reach back into their memory once again.

Writing recently in Livemint, Gupta reminds us that massive, record-breaking IPOs have historically presaged market tops. The logic is straightforward: Mega-IPOs act as a structural liquidity drain, sucking vital capital out of secondary markets. A single quarter's equity issuance absorbing a meaningful fraction of annual deposit formation is a system-wide hazard. The danger is particularly elevated in India, where the banking system's 1.2% deposit growth is 4 percentage points slower than credit expansion.

DEPOSIT RATES, LENDING RATES & LIQUIDITY: RBI MUST MANAGE WITHOUT RELYING ON A SINGLE POLICY INSTRUMENT

The RBI policy trilemma

WE ARE LIVING through an unusually interesting phase in macroeconomic policy, where India and the global economy are sending sharply contrasting signals. Domestically, there have been three encouraging developments in quick succession.

First, monetary and fiscal policies appear to be moving in a coordinated direction, with a clear objective of increasing foreign capital inflows and easing external sector pressure, and arresting excessive rupee depreciation with a comprehensive set of measures announced on last Friday.

Second, the revised GDP data has delivered a positive surprise, with Q4 FY26 growth at 7.8% and full-year FY26 growth at 7.7% — much higher than any market estimates.

Third, the external sector has surprised positively, with India recording a current account surplus of 0.7% of GDP in Q4 FY26 owing to higher personal remittances. Remittances for deposits from abroad have grown by ~25% year-on-year.

These developments together suggest that India's macroeconomic fundamentals are much stronger and the economy is more resilient than what the recent pressure on the rupee may have implied.

The policy measures announced to attract foreign currency inflows are particularly important in this context. The foreign currency non-resident (bank) or FCNR(B) window is expected to bring in around $40-45 billion of fresh foreign currency deposits into the banking system. In addition, the external commercial borrowings/overseas foreign currency borrowings swap window could potentially bring in another $15-20 billion of dollar supply. These measures may result in total foreign currency inflows of around $55-65 billion. This is not a small intervention. At a time when emerging market currencies have been under pressure, a dollar inflow of this size can materially alter market expectations, improve foreign exchange liquidity, and reduce the perception of one-way pressure on the rupee.

The most direct implication of these measures will be on the rupee exchange rate. While it is always difficult to forecast a precise exchange rate level, the combination of stronger external sector data, renewed dollar inflows, and policy support should reduce depreciation pressure. Under reasonable assumptions, the rupee could gradually appreciate towards the 92-93 per dollar range.

The second major implication of the policy package will be felt in the banking sector. The expected $55-65 billion of capital inflows would translate into roughly at least ₹4.5 lakh crore of additional deposit resources at current exchange rates. This will help banks at a time when credit growth has been significantly running ahead of deposit growth. Deposit growth for FY27 could move towards the 15% range against the potential credit growth of around 16%. The credit deposit gap could narrow to less than 200 basis points (bps) against a peak of 670 bps in FY24 after adjusting for regulatory dispensations.

This has important implications for the term structure of interest rates. A large addition to deposit resources will eliminate the intensity of competition for domestic deposits and thus deposit rates might even witness a decline.

In contrast, the RBI might face a policy dilemma of a tightening cycle amid rising inflation against the avalanche of liquidity. It may have to manage inflation expectations, currency stability, and liquidity conditions simultaneously without relying on a single policy instrument. Intriguingly, any such policy tightening cycle is completely incongruent with a deposit rate cut/status quo cycle. With the monsoon onset being one of the weakest in history (a 26% cumulative shortfall till date), growth considerations might take centre stage. The IMD forecast of 90% rainfall is the lowest since 2001.

Hence, talks of a rate hike is premature and out of context at this point. The other option in this case is the RBI reversing the policy stance of adequate liquidity resorting to sell buy swap transactions/open market operation sales to suck out liquidity. But will that be a feasible option, as it will result in hardening of ineptest rates, especially when we are facing the weakest monsoon perhaps in decades? This also could result in financial instability when global economy faces renewed uncertainty.

The global economic scenario is complicated. The US-Iran conflict has flared up again. The US is facing a contrasting mix of strong labour-market data and renewed inflation concerns. Its economy added far more jobs than market expectations, while the unemployment rate remained steady at 4.3% in May. At the same time, US inflation rose to 4.2% in May (the highest in nearly three years) largely because of energy-price pressures. This has revived

Decoding Modi's environmentalism

CHANDRA BHUSHAN

CEO, iFOREST

AS NARENDRA MODI becomes India's longest continuously serving elected Prime Minister, it is worth asking: What is his environmental philosophy, and what drives his environmentalism?

This question has often engaged me when I have heard him speak on cleanliness, water conservation, green energy, climate change, and ecological protection. He is perhaps the only PM who has spoken so consistently from the Red Fort about changing behaviour, practices, and policies to improve India's environment.

In his first Independence Day speech in 2014, he spoke about cleanliness and the need to eliminate open defecation. He returned to the theme year after year, launched the Swachh Bharat Mission (SBM), and converted a subject of revolution into a national movement.

In the early years, his focus was on local and traditional environmental problems — sanitation, indoor air pollution, water stress, waste, and soil health. More recently, he has engaged increasingly with globally relevant issues such as climate change, renewable energy (RE), and sustainable consumption.

Consider the local agenda first. In 2015, he highlighted indoor air pollution and the need for clean cooking fuel, which became the Pradhan Mantri Ujjwala Yojana (PMUY) in 2016. He also launched the Pradhan Mantri Krishi Sinchai Yojana with the slogan "save water, save energy, save fertilisers". He has urged farmers to reduce fertiliser and pesticide use to protect soil, health, and nature, calling in 2021 for agriculture to be taken "out of the lab of chemistry" and connected to the lab of nature. On waste, after the SBM, he launched a campaign against single-use plastic, which was later backed by a ban on several such items.

Energy and climate change have featured more prominently in his speeches since 2020, though the origins go back earlier. In 2009, as Gujarat's chief minister, he set up India's first climate change department. A votary of solar power since his Gujarat days, he expanded India's solar and RE targets substantially and, in 2021, spoke of energy independence based on clean energy by 2047, including electric mobility, hydrogen, and a clean energy transition road map.

So, what philosophy explains these environmental actions? Four threads stand out.

The first is people-led change. People-centricity and mass mobilisation are central themes in his environmental policies and programmes. The pattern is clear: first build public consciousness, then follow it with policy.

The "Give It Up" campaign preceded the PMUY. His natural farming push is farmer-led. The Jal Jeevan Mission is framed as a Jan Andolan. The campaign against plastic began as a people's movement before it became a legal ban. Swachh Bharat's success has been credited by him to "Team India" and mass participation. Thus, PM Modi's idea of the environment is linked to change at the level of individuals, households, and communities.

The second thread is co-benefits. Actions that simultaneously improve the economy, environment, and public health seem to be a core motivation in his environmentalism. Flagship schemes delivering water, sanitation, cooking fuel, and electricity carry large environmental and health gains. For instance, one of India's biggest air pollution gains in the last decade has come not from reducing vehicular emissions, but from the shift from biomass to LPG for cooking. His green energy ambition is also driven by energy security and the belief that future growth and jobs will come from the green economy.

The third thread is women-centricity. Improving the lives, health, and dignity of women runs through most of his programmes. He has described Jal Jeevan as a women-driven movement, framed the PMUY around women's health and dignity, and said that women's safety and dignity were central inspirations for the SBM. In this sense, his environmentalism is also the politics of everyday relief — less drudgery, cleaner homes, safer sanitation, and better health.

The fourth thread is a fusion of tradition and modern science. He invokes the panch tatva and green hydrogen in the same breath. His signature intervention at the UN climate negotiations — Lifestyle for Environment, or LiFE — draws from India's tradition of lth but also enjoy greater technological sovereignty and geopolitical clout. —Amarjeet Kumar, Hazaribagh

Green transition

"Green transition needs women at its core" (FE, June 11) makes a point that development discourse has been slow to integrate. Women in India, especially in rural areas, are disproportionately affected by climate stress while being underrepresented in market concerns about the possibility of rates remaining higher for longer, or even the risk of a further tightening bias by the Federal Reserve if inflation persists.

Financial markets have reacted to this uncertainty. Technology- and AI-linked equities, which had earlier benefitted from expectations of easier monetary policy and abundant liquidity, have become more vulnerable to corrections as US yields remain elevated. Metal prices and other global commodities are also adjusting much lower to the risk of persistent inflation and tighter financial conditions. It is now entirely possible that once US growth falters, the Fed may chip in with liquidity bolstering measures to support growth that might reverse current market moves.

History shows that during the earlier FCNR(B) mobilisation episode in 2013, domestic interest rates moved lower over the following years, with policy rates declining from elevated levels in early 2014 at 8% to 6% by August 2017 as oil prices crashed. While the current context is different, the broad lesson remains relevant: credible foreign currency mobilisation can curb external vulnerability, improve confidence, and create space for domestic financial conditions to at least ease over time.

Finally, a word of caution. At this juncture, the central bank should continue to adopt a more forceful and unambiguous intervention strategy to arrest any dramatic fall in rupee value as a powerful signalling move, as the rupee has continued to depreciate even after the measures were announced. In the current environment, a passive approach could prove costly. Besides, it is important that the RBI looks through words of wisdom from the market and noted economists, such as the rupee being allowed to touch 100. We must appreciate that pandering to the whims of markets and or comments, often called "Greenspan Put", allows the market players to dictate terms to the central bank by taking positions to cater to their own interest.

Views are personal

From Swachh Bharat to LiFE, the PM has given environmental agenda a distinctly Indian vocabulary rooted in Deendayal Upadhyaya's integral humanism restrained consumption.

But this belief in traditional wisdom has not stopped him from embracing modern science and technology. From building a digital economy to investing in electric vehicles and RE, his government has pursued technological modernisation with equal zeal.

Ultimately, to understand PM Modi's environmentalism, one must understand Pandit Deendayal Upadhyaya's integral humanism. In integral humanism, human beings are at the centre of development; culture moulds nature without destroying it; and unbridled consumerism is seen as alien to Indian civilisation. In lectures delivered in Bombay in 1965, Upadhyaya spoke about nature protection, sustainable agriculture, and the need to embrace modern science while improving upon India's traditional knowledge and culture. In one of his lectures, he warned that chemical fertilisers could render land infertile. "How long can this dance of destruction go on?" he had asked. Modi's passion for natural farming derives directly from that worldview.

PM Modi's environmentalism, therefore, is best understood as integral humanism in practice. He has updated and expanded the ideas propounded by Upadhyaya. But his major achievement is that he has converted these ideas into policy, programmes, and mass mobilisation. In doing so, he has given India's environmental agenda a distinctly Indian vocabulary — rooted in people, tradition, women's dignity, public health, energy security, and modern technology.

Shedding old baggage

VIP INDUSTRIES IS STRENGTHENING ITS E-COMMERCE PLAY IN A CATEGORY STACKED WITH UNORGANISED AND D2C PLAYERS

CHRISTINA MONIZ

LEGACY LUGGAGE BRAND VIP Industries is shedding some of its old baggage. The company, which manufactures Skybags and Aristocrat along with its flagship VIP range, has gone beyond cringey makeovers solely to attract Gen Z, and has embarked on a transformation journey that leverages its legacy to purvey a fresh range of offerings.

The company is modernising its digital presence and supply chain to catch up with competitors. Managing director Atul Jain admits that the company has been a bit slow on the e-commerce front. It is reinventing its online store, while also making its products available across other e-commerce channels. “Quick commerce is becoming an important channel since there are several use occasions and segments within the luggage market. For instance, consumers often make last-minute purchases for a weekend trip via quick commerce. School bags and backpacks for kids, also great gifting options, are seeing good demand on these platforms,” he says.

The company, which once dominated the ₹16,000 crore organised luggage market in India, saw a bit of a shakeup last year when the Piramal family sold 32% of its stake to a private equity firm. But it continues to be among the top three players in the category with a 29-30% market share. “Luggage plays the role of a traveller’s companion. We are creating designs to fit that role,” says Jain. “For example, our new VIP suitcases have a coffee cup holder and our cabin trolley bag has an easy access compartment for devices like laptops and iPads.”

The transformation goes beyond the product. VIP’s 350 exclusive physical retail touchpoints in the country are being revamped to offer a new customer experience.

Unpacking opportunities

Over its 55 years, VIP has grown from a briefcase brand into Asia’s largest luggage maker, housing labels like Skybags, Aristocrat, and Carlton (premium segment). While VIP is a premium offering targeted at business and travellers, its Aristocrat brand operates in the mass market and the budget-

E22 TO E30 BLENDS NOW TAX-EXEMPT

Govt extends excise waiver on ethanol

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, June 11

THE GOVERNMENT ON Thursday extended central excise duty exemptions to petrol blended with 22%, 25%, 27% and 30% ethanol, following the notification of standards for higher ethanol blends and months after India achieved its 20% ethanol blending target.

In a notification issued by the department of revenue, E22, E25, E27 and E30 fuels conforming to Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) specification IS 19850:2025 have been granted nil central excise duty.

According to the notification, "22% ethanol blended petrol consisting, by volume, of 78% motor spirit (commonly known as petrol), on which the appropriate duties of excise have been paid and of 22% ethanol on which the appropriate Central tax, State tax, Union territory tax or Integrated tax, have been paid" shall attract nil duty. Similar exemptions have been notified for E25, E27 and E30 blends.

The notifications also exempt these higher ethanol blends from additional excise duty and road and infrastructure cess.

The move comes weeks after the Bureau of Indian Standards notified specifications for petrol blended with 22%, 25%, 27% and 30% ethanol, paving the way for future use of higher-blend fuels.

However, the petroleum ministry clarified that the notifications should not be interpreted as an immediate rollout of higher ethanol blends.

"With higher BIS standards available, excise duty waiver has been extended to E22, E25, E27 and E30.

"This is a preliminary prerequisite for eventually introducing higher blends but doesn't convey anything about rollout of higher blends as of now as that will only be done after extensive testing and consultation," the ministry said.

The clarification comes amid discussions within the industry on the implications of moving beyond E20.

While higher ethanol blends could further reduce crude oil imports and support domestic ethanol producers, automobile industry executives have pointed out that widespread adoption would require extensive testing of vehicles and fuel systems.

India holds strong hand in trade talks, says Goyal

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, June 11

INDIA NEGOTIATES WITH other countries from a position of strength and is able to navigate trade restrictions in a spirit of give-and-take, Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal said on Thursday.

Referring to recent measures by the European Union, the UK and the US to protect their domestic steel industries from foreign competition, Goyal said, "These are the realities of life that you have to confront. Usually, in such situations, you try to mitigate the impact. You ignore some actions and take countermeasures against others."

The minister also highlighted India's efforts to shield its economy from unfair trade practices, particularly from regions where excess production capacity leads to the dumping of goods in the Indian market. The UK's safeguard measures on steel have emerged as a key issue in India-UK trade relations and have delayed the implementation of the Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (CETA). The safeguards were introduced after both sides had signed the agreement and completed all legal formalities for ratification, prompting a reopening of discussions.

Twelve years of transformation, laying Viksit Bharat's foundation

■ ANANT GOENKA

JUNE 10, 2026, marked a defining moment in India's democratic journey. Prime Minister Narendra Modi became the longest continuously serving elected Prime Minister, completing 4,399 days and twelve continued years in office. This milestone represents a sustained period of policy continuity, delivery-focused governance, and structural reforms that have fundamentally reshaped India's economic trajectory.

The last twelve years have seen a transformation of the underlying architecture of growth. India has moved from managing scarcity to building scale, from fragmented policymaking to integrated execution, and from being viewed primarily as an attractive market to being recognised as a trusted global economic partner.

This government's industrial legacy rests on a series of foundational reforms that have strengthened competitiveness and improved the ease of doing business. The GST unified millions of taxpayers into a single national market, reducing logistics costs and eliminating cascading taxation. The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code transformed credit markets by creating a time-bound framework for resolution. Average recovery rates have increased from nearly 15-20% earlier to around 30%, while resolution timelines have reduced from nearly 6-8 years to about 2 years. This has enabled recoveries of over ₹4 lakh crore. Decriminalisation of hundreds of laws and the Jan Vishwas reforms have reduced regulatory burdens, while the digitisation of compliance requirements has improved transparency and reduced transaction costs.

Infrastructure development has been another defining pillar. Over the last twelve years, the length of National highways has increased by 61%, from 91,287 km in FY14 to 1,46,566 km in March 2026. Railway electrification has expanded by nearly 70,000 route kilometres, and more than 164 high-speed modern Vande Bharat trains are operating on various routes connecting major cities. Airports have increased from 74 to 165, while metro rail networks have expanded rapidly across cities.

Importantly, infrastructure is no longer viewed merely as a public utility but as a strategic economic multiplier. Through initiatives such as PM Gati Shakti and the National Logistics Policy, India has adopted an integrated approach to planning roads, railways, ports, airports, and digital networks. These investments are reducing logistics costs, improving supply chain efficiency, integrating markets, and unlocking new geographies for investment.

India's energy transformation has been equally remarkable. Renewable energy capacity has expanded significantly with over 280 GW of installed capacity from non-fossil fuel sources, and universal village electrification has been achieved. These investments have strengthened energy security while supporting India's commitment to sustainable development.

The manufacturing story has also gained momentum. Production-Linked Incentive schemes have attracted cumulative investments exceeding Rs 2 lakh crore across fourteen sectors and generated substantial employment. At a time when global companies are diversifying supply chains, India's combination of scale, stability, democratic institutions, and reform orientation presents a compelling proposition.

India's growing global stature has further reinforced this economic transformation. The spurt of recently signed FTAs, many with advanced countries, have opened new opportunities for businesses. We must now work towards effective utilisation of these FTAs to bring tangible benefits for the economy.

The government's focus on inclusive development has strengthened India's human capital base. Nearly 58 crore Jan Dhan accounts, more than 140 crore Aadhaar enrolments, and the rapid expansion of UPI have revolutionised the interface between government, citizens, and businesses. Direct Benefit Transfers have improved welfare delivery, while digital platforms have accelerated financial inclusion, formalisation, and access to credit.

Ayushman Bharat now provides healthcare protection to millions of citizens, Swachh Bharat has transformed sanitation outcomes, PM Awas Yojana has expanded housing access, and PM Ujjwala Yojana has improved energy access for vulnerable households. These initiatives are long-term investments in productivity, dignity, and economic participation.

Yet, as India celebrates these achievements, the journey towards Viksit Bharat remains unfinished. We must maintain GDP growth of over 8% to realise the potential. Further impetus to manufacturing is required to enhance its share to 25 per cent of GDP from the current 17-18%. Ease of doing business improvements need to penetrate more deeply at the state and local levels. Most importantly, India must move beyond assembly-led growth towards innovation-driven competitiveness.

R&D expenditure needs to significantly scale up from the current 0.7% of GDP. The next phase of industrial transformation must be driven by a stronger partnership between government, industry, and academia. This triple-helix model should focus on building indigenous capabilities in semiconductors, pharmaceuticals, aerospace, advanced materials, artificial intelligence, and quantum technologies.

The challenge before India now is to scale what has worked, deepen reforms where gaps remain, and sustain the momentum that has transformed India over the past twelve years. With the same determination that built highways through mountains, brought banking to villages, and positioned India at the forefront of the digital revolution, we can convert this decade of transformation into a century-defining era of prosperity.

World nears 1.5°C climate breach

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, June 11

HUMAN ACTIVITIES PUSHED global warming to 1.37°C above pre-industrial levels in 2025, putting the world on track to breach the critical 1.5°C warming threshold within about four years, while the pace at which heat is accumulating in the Earth's climate system points to even higher levels of future warming.

The Indicators of Global Climate Change (IGCC) report found that the world's remaining carbon budget to limit warming to 1.5°C has shrunk to just 130 billion tonnes of CO₂, enough for only about three years at current emission levels, underscoring the rapidly narrowing window for climate action.

"Strong and consistent evidence shows that the entire climate system is continuing to heat, driving rapid global warming," the report said.

The study, prepared by more than 70 scientists from 56 institutions across 17 countries, found that global greenhouse gas emissions climbed to a record 56.8 billion tonnes of carbon dioxide equivalent (CO₂e) in 2024, driven largely by fossil fuel use.

One of the report's most significant warnings relates to the Earth's Energy Imbalance (EEI) -- the measure of how quickly excess heat is accumulating in the climate system. Scientists found that the indicator has more than doubled in recent decades and reached its highest level on record.

"Without human influence, it should be close to zero, but it has been growing since the 1970s and is now at a record high, doubling in recent decades," said Prof Piers Forster, Director of the Priestley Centre for Climate Futures at the University of Leeds and lead author of the report. The report found that human-induced warming is increasing at an all-time high rate of around 0.27°C per decade, with almost all warming experienced during the past decade attributable to human activities.

Atmospheric concentrations of the three major greenhouse gases also reached new highs in 2025. Carbon dioxide concentrations rose to 425.6 parts per million, methane to 1,936.3 parts per billion, and nitrous oxide to 339.4 parts per billion.

Banks seek clarity from RBI...

"WHAT IS UNCLEAR now is whether a bank can allow a client to borrow against an FCNR(B) deposit placed with it and then rebook that deposit. Such a structure would expand both the bank's assets and liabilities," the official said.

Under the revised framework, non-resident Indians (NRIs) can borrow from overseas banks and place the proceeds in FCNR(B) deposits with Indian banks. In the operational guidelines issued on Monday, the RBI removed restrictions on leverage, enabling NRIs to borrow abroad and deploy those funds into FCNR(B) deposits to benefit from the interest-rate arbitrage.

For instance, an NRI could invest $100 of personal funds, borrow $900 from a foreign bank, and place the entire $1,000 as an FCNR(B) deposit with an Indian bank. The Indian bank may issue a letter of credit to back the overseas borrowing.

However, the RBI has not explicitly clarified whether Indian banks can themselves provide such leverage through their foreign branches.

During the 2013 FCNR(B) mobilisation scheme, overseas banks were permitted to lend to FCNR(B) account holders against a lien on their deposits.

On Friday, the RBI announced that it would absorb the full hedging cost on incremental FCNR(B) deposits mobilised under the special swap window, as part of a broader package of measures aimed at attracting foreign currency inflows and supporting the rupee.

With leverage now permitted through overseas borrowings, banks expect FCNR(B) inflows to exceed earlier estimates.

Industry executives project inflows of around $40-50 billion through the FCNR(B) route.

After the RBI decided to exempt incremental FCNR(B) deposits from cash reserve ratio and statutory liquidity ratio requirements, banks have aggressively raised interest rates to draw foreign deposits.

NCLT admits SBI insolvency plea against Anil Ambani

THE MUMBAI BENCH of the tribunal also directed resolution professional Prashant Jain to issue a public notice within seven days inviting claims from creditors.

The case relates to credit facilities of ₹565 crore and ₹635 crore sanctioned by SBI to Reliance Communications and Reliance Infratel, respectively, in 2016. Ambani had executed personal guarantees for the loans. SBI invoked the guarantees in January 2018 following defaults by the companies and subsequently moved the NCLT in March 2020 under Section 95 of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code.

Rejecting Ambani's contention that the guarantees were void because the loan accounts were retrospectively classified as non-performing assets, the tribunal held that the subsequent NPA classification could not invalidate the guarantees.

It also rejected the argument that approval of the RCom resolution plan had extinguished SBI's rights against the personal guarantor, noting that lenders' rights under personal guarantees had been expressly preserved.

Responding to the order, a spokesperson for Ambani said the matter relates to a "disputed personal guarantee" allegedly extended to SBI in 2016 and that Ambani derived no personal benefit from the underlying loan facility.

The spokesperson said the order would be reviewed by Ambani's legal team and challenged through appropriate legal remedies.

"Ambani remains confident of vindicating his position before the appropriate forums," the statement said.

Trump's U-turn: Plan to strike Iran dropped

TRUMP WAS REFERRING to Iran's main oil hub.

Iran exports most of its oil via Kharg Island with volumes usually amounting to 2 million barrels per day, or around 2% of global supply, and flowing mainly to China.

In response to Trump's threats, the head of the national security committee in Iran's parliament, Ebrahim Azizi, told state media that the US president would receive a stronger and more painful response if he made any "uncalculated" move.

Iran has ordered the complete closure of the Strait of Hormuz early on Thursday in response to the US strikes. The Strait of Hormuz has been completely closed to all oil tankers and commercial ships, and any vessel attempting to pass would be shot at, Iran's military said. Only a small number of oil tankers and other vessels have passed through the crucial waterway since the start of the conflict in late February.

The war has killed thousands of people, mainly in Iran and Lebanon, and pushed up global oil prices since the US and Israel launched heavy airstrikes on Iran on February 28. Oil prices were, however, almost flat on Thursday as investors weighed Trump's comments with the actual impact of supply disruptions from the war. REUTERS

RISKS TO INVESTORS

For details refer to section titled "Risk Factors" on page 29 of the Prospectus

1. Dependence on premix formulations segment: We derive a significant portion of our revenue from the premix formulations segment, which contributed ₹1,377.26 million, ₹1,546.95 million, ₹1,333.13 million and ₹1,527.99 million, representing 51.47%, 47.61%, 44.78% and 54.86% of our revenue from operations for the nine-months period ended December 31, 2025, Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023, respectively. Any adverse developments affecting this segment, including regulatory changes, volatility in raw material prices, reduced demand for fortified products, loss of key customers, increased competition, or supply chain disruptions, may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

2. Customer concentration risk: We are dependent on a limited number of customers. Revenue from our top 10 customers was ₹1,118.97 million, ₹1,490.49 million, ₹1,453.69 million and ₹1,271.29 million, constituting 41.82%, 45.87%, 48.83% and 45.65% of revenue from operations for the nine-months period ended December 31, 2025, Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023, respectively. Loss of one or more key customers, reduction in order volumes, pricing pressure, procurement delays, or inability to onboard replacement customers may adversely affect our revenues, cash flows and profitability.

3. Reconstruction of a Portion of our Nashik Facility Pursuant to Regulatory Actions: Reconstruction of a portion of our Nashik Facility pursuant to past regulatory actions may result in temporary production disruption, operational inefficiencies and delay in customer fulfilment. The affected capacity includes dry powder premix capacity of 8.10 MT/day and liquid premix capacity of 0.75 MT/day, with an estimated disruption period of 9–12 months if adequate mitigation measures are not successfully implemented. Although we have proposed mitigation measures, including relocation / reallocation of production lines and temporary shifting of certain production activities, any delay in reconstruction, capacity transfer, equipment calibration, quality revalidation or stabilisation of operations may adversely impact our production schedules, customer fulfilment timelines, revenues, cash flows and financial performance.

4. Product quality and compliance risk: Sale of expired, defective, contaminated or non-compliant products, or failure to meet applicable quality standards, may expose us to product recalls, regulatory action, penalties, termination of supply arrangements and reputational harm. In Fiscal 2024, contamination at the Thoothukudi Facility led to suspension of operations for six to seven months and direct losses of ₹6,56,96,863, along with additional fixed-cost absorption of ₹1,51,48,225 and corrective capex of ₹1,55,00,000. In Fiscal 2026, incorrect selenium dosage in MNP batches resulted in financial loss of ₹4,23,04,470. Any recurrence of similar incidents may adversely affect our production schedules, revenues, cash flows, customer relationships, regulatory standing and overall financial condition.

5. Raw material procurement and price volatility: We do not have long-term, fixed-volume or price-protected contracts with our raw material suppliers. Expenses towards purchase of raw materials were ₹1,624.58 million, ₹1,548.34 million, ₹1,382.66 million and ₹1,868.53 million, representing 60.71%, 47.65%, 46.44% and 67.09% of revenue from operations for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023, respectively. Any increase in raw material prices or supply disruption may adversely impact margins and production schedules. Any increase in raw material prices, delay in availability, supplier-side quality issue, import restriction, logistics disruption or inability to pass on cost escalations to customers in a timely manner may adversely affect our production schedules, order fulfilment, customer relationships, margins, cash flows and overall financial performance.

6. Supplier concentration and import dependence: Our top 10 suppliers accounted for ₹864.74 million, ₹749.52 million, ₹824.51 million and ₹1,005.21 million, representing 53.15%, 46.19%, 48.02% and 51.54% of total raw material purchases for the nine months period ended December 31, 2025, Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023, respectively. Further, imported raw materials amounted to ₹386.18 million, ₹240.02 million, ₹509.15 million and ₹448.60 million constituting 23.73%, 14.79%, 29.65% and 23.00% of total purchases during such periods, respectively, with imports concentrated from countries such as China, Singapore, Malaysia, Poland, UAE, Germany and Netherlands. For the nine months period ended December 31, 2025 and Fiscal 2025, China, Singapore and Malaysia together accounted for a significant portion of our foreign procurement. Such dependence exposes us to global supply chain disruptions, foreign exchange volatility, import restrictions, tariff or non-tariff barriers, geopolitical developments, logistics delays and increased freight costs.

7. R&D and product commercialisation risk: Our growth and ability to remain competitive depend on successful research, development, testing, scale-up and commercialisation of new products across our branded nutrition, clinical nutrition, wellness nutrition and therapeutic nutrition categories. During the nine months period ended December 31, 2025 and the last three Fiscals, we developed 11 new branded nutrition products across categories such as clinical nutrition, sports nutrition and wellness nutrition, of which nine products have been launched and sold, while two products are presently under the process of commercialisation/launch. Product development is subject to various uncertainties, including timely identification of market trends, availability of suitable ingredients, stability and taste trials, regulatory approvals, quality validation, customer acceptance, pricing, packaging and successful scale-up from laboratory or pilot batches to commercial production. There can be no assurance that our future R&D initiatives will result in commercially viable or profitable products.

8. Counterfeit and look-alike product risk: Counterfeit, imitation or look-alike products may harm our brand reputation, erode customer trust and adversely affect our business, particularly as our products are sold across branded nutrition, institutional formulations and international markets. Such products may imitate our brand name, packaging or labelling, causing loss of sales, dilution of goodwill and potential consumer complaints if such products are inferior or unsafe. As on the date of the Prospectus, we have 53 registered trademarks in India and 11 international trademark registrations. However, enforcement of intellectual property rights may be time-consuming, costly and uncertain. Any inability to prevent or address such counterfeit activity may adversely affect our brand equity, customer confidence, revenues and financial condition.

9. Geographical concentration in domestic sales: A majority of our domestic revenue is generated from certain key states, including Maharashtra, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and Gujarat. These four states together accounted for ₹615.35 million, representing approximately 52.36% of our domestic sales for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, and ₹722.53 million, representing approximately 57.51% of our domestic sales in Fiscal 2025. This concentration exposes us to region-specific risks, including changes in state-level regulations, food safety or public health policies, competitive intensity, distributor disruptions, climatic events, public health concerns and local economic conditions. Any adverse development in these states may disproportionately affect our domestic sales, customer relationships, distribution network, revenues, cash flows and financial condition.

10. Cross-border operational and regulatory risks: A significant portion of our revenue is derived from exports, with revenue from rest of World amounting to ₹1,493.66 million, ₹1,990.06 million, ₹1,878.06 million and ₹1,777.37 million, representing 55.82%, 61.25%, 63.08% and 63.82% of revenue from operations for the nine months period ended December 31, 2025, Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023, respectively. Our exports to over 75 countries expose us to cross-border risks, including changes in import-export regulations, tariffs, non-tariff barriers, product registration requirements, foreign exchange fluctuations, geopolitical instability, sanctions, logistics delays and differing food safety and regulatory standards. Any adverse development in key export markets may affect our ability to fulfil orders, increase compliance or operating costs, delay shipments, reduce margins and materially impact our revenues, cash flows and results of operations

11. Suboptimal capacity utilisation: Our manufacturing facilities have experienced underutilisation across product categories, which may limit operating efficiencies and affect absorption of fixed costs. For the nine months period ended December 31, 2025, capacity utilisation was 27.59% for dry premix, 17.04% for liquid premix, 31.57% for MNP, 27.39% for RUF and 49.70% for clinical nutrition. Such underutilisation is influenced by factors such as demand variability, tender-based and project-driven orders, procurement cycles of government and development agencies, SKU diversity, frequent batch changeovers, packaging constraints and raw material availability. If we are unable to improve capacity utilisation, our operational efficiency, margins, profitability and financial condition may be adversely affected.

12. Health, safety and environmental compliance risk: Our operations are subject to evolving health, safety, food safety, environmental, pollution control and hazardous waste regulations, including requirements under FSSAI and Legal Metrology laws. These regulations govern, among others, manufacture, storage, labelling, packaging, distribution, waste management, emissions and product safety standards. Any failure to comply with applicable laws or obtain / maintain required approvals may result in regulatory action, fines, litigation, product restrictions, shutdown of manufacturing facilities, revocation of licences or increased compliance costs. Such events may adversely affect our operations, reputation, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations.

13. Manufacturing disruption risk: Any disruption in production, shutdown of facilities, machinery breakdown, regulatory restriction or operational constraint at our Nashik, Chennai, Thoothukudi or Uzbekistan facilities may affect our ability to manufacture products and meet customer demand in a timely manner. In connection with the Nashik Facility regularisation / reconstruction process, current capacities of 8.10 MT/day for dry powder premix, 0.75 MT/day for liquid premix and 8.0 MT/day for RUF products may become unavailable unless mitigation measures are implemented successfully. Any delay in implementing such measures, inability to shift production, capacity shortfall, quality revalidation requirement or extended downtime may delay order fulfilment, affect customer relationships and adversely impact our revenues, operations and financial condition.

14. Foreign currency fluctuation risk: We are exposed to foreign currency fluctuations on account of both import of raw materials and export of finished products. Import costs from foreign suppliers were ₹386.18 million, ₹240.02 million, ₹509.15 million and ₹448.60 million for the nine months period ended December 31, 2025, Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023, respectively, while export revenues were ₹1,493.66 million, ₹1,990.06 million, ₹1,878.06 million and ₹1,777.37 million during the same periods. Since adverse movement in INR against foreign currencies may increase our import costs, reduce export realisations, affect pricing and create margin volatility, any significant currency fluctuation may adversely impact our cost structure, profitability, cash flows and financial condition.

15. Weighted average return on Net-worth for Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023 based on Restated Financial Information is 9.13%.

16. The Offer comprises only Offer for Sale by the Selling Shareholders.

1. Risk to Investors: Summary description of key risk factors based on materiality:

- Our Company, Directors, Promoters and Group Companies are parties to certain legal proceedings. Any adverse decision in such proceedings may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.
- Dependence on Leased Premises for Business Operations
- We may face several risks associated with the object of the issue of setting up of proposed Assembling Unit, which could hamper our growth prospects, cash flows and business and financial condition.
- We cannot assure you that the proposed assembling unit will become operational as scheduled, or at all, or operate as efficiently as planned. If we are unable to commission our new facility in a timely manner or without cost overruns, it may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.
- The cost estimates for the proposed assembling unit at Site No. 11 & 12, Akshya Nagar, Yelenahalli, Begur, Bengaluru – 560068, Karnataka have been derived from management estimates and quotations received from third parties and may not be accurate.
- Our Company is yet to place orders for civil work and plant & machineries for the proposed assembling unit. Any delay in placing orders or completion of civil works or procurement of such machinery may delay the schedule of implementation and possibly increase the cost of commencing operations.
- EPCC projects are typically awarded to us on satisfaction of prescribed pre-qualification criteria and following a competitive bidding process. Our business and our financial condition may be adversely affected if new infrastructure projects are not awarded to us or if contracts awarded to us are prematurely terminated.
- Dependence on Middle Eastern Markets for Export Revenue
- Our business is substantially dependent on certain key customers, from whom we derive a significant portion of our revenues. The loss of any significant customer may have a material and adverse effect on our business and results of operations.
- Our Company had negative cash flow in recent fiscals, details of which are given below. Sustained negative cash flow could adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

'FIFA CAN'T CONTROL DECISIONS MADE BY GOVTS'

Infantino tells fans to chill in face of mounting criticism

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
New Delhi, June 11

FIFA President Gianni Infantino told football fans and critics to "chill and relax" as the governing body came under fresh pressure over immigration problems, travel restrictions and ticket prices ahead of the start of the World Cup. Infantino defended the organisation's handling of several controversies that have dominated the buildup, from visa issues affecting teams and officials to complaints about expensive tickets. He insisted FIFA was doing everything possible to find solutions.

"It's important sometimes to chill, relax," he said. "We work on everything. Sometimes, screaming and shouting does not find a solution."

His comments came as FIFA faced criticism over entry restrictions affecting some participants and supporters. The issue gained attention after Somali referee Omar Artan was denied entry to the United States, prompting criticism from the United Nations over immigration issues. Infantino acknowledged the frustration but argued that FIFA cannot control decisions made by governments.

"We don't live on the moon, we live on planet Earth," he said. "We have to respect that we are not kings of the world, who can rule over governments and police forces."

The FIFA chief said people should not interpret his call to "chill and relax" as a request to ignore problems.

"When I say chill, I don't mean sit and do nothing," he said. "I mean trust us that we

FIFA President Gianni Infantino's comments come as FIFA has been facing criticism over entry restrictions affecting some participants and supporters are trying to find solutions. Sometimes we are successful, sometimes we are not. We are a sports organisation that does as much as we can," he added.

Much of Infantino's address focused on defending the United States. Despite concerns over travel bans and visa restrictions affecting people from some participating countries, he said every nation has the right to protect its borders. "Unfortunately, we live in an aggressive world and security goes above everything," he said.

To underline his point, Infantino used a future example involving Britain. "In 2035, we hope the Women's World Cup will be in the United Kingdom," he said. "Would you find it normal that FIFA would dictate to the British government who to let into the country?"

Ticket prices were another major target of criticism, but Infantino argued that demand for the tournament justified the cost. He revealed that more than six million tickets had already been sold and described interest in the competition as extraordinary. According to Infantino, lowering prices would not necessarily help genuine supporters because many tickets would simply be resold for profit. "The demand has been unprecedented, not by a little bit, but by a factor of 10 or more," he said.

"When we put tickets on sale on the secondary market, they are sold at a much higher price, which shows the original price was accurate," he added.

He also defended FIFA's financial model, saying money generated from the World Cup is reinvested into football around the world. "What's most important in all of this is that every dollar we generate goes back into football," he said.

FIVE UNMISSABLE BLOCKBUSTERS

With a record 72 group-stage matches spread across 16 days, FIFA World Cup 2026 promises football overload. Amid the packed schedule, five matches stand out as potential classics:

BRAZIL VS MOROCCO (JUNE 13)

The five-time champions face Africa's trailblazers. Brazil's star-studded squad under Carlo Ancelotti meets a fearless Morocco side that stunned the world in Qatar. Flair, pace and pedigree collide.

FRANCE VS SENEGAL (JUNE 16)

A 24-year-old World Cup score to settle. Senegal's famous 2002 upset of defending champions France remains one of football's greatest shocks. The long-awaited rematch could decide the toughest group.

ENGLAND VS CROATIA (JUNE 17)

Memories of the 2018 semifinal still linger. Croatia broke English hearts in Russia; now Thomas Tuchel's England get a chance of redemption in a clash likely to determine the Group L supremacy.

PORTUGAL VS SOUTH KOREA (JUNE 19)

Cristiano Ronaldo's heirs meet the side that shocked Portugal in Qatar 2022. Expect high intensity, Asian flair and a match that can shape Group K's destiny.

COLOMBIA VS PORTUGAL (JUNE 27)

A sold-out Miami showdown featuring attacking stars, passionate fan bases and knockout-stage implications promises a carnival atmosphere.

FIFA asks Haiti to alter shirt design

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
New Delhi, June 11

JUST DAYS AHEAD of their first match in the FIFA World Cup, Haiti had to alter the design of their jersey. The shirts, which depicted a war scene from the country's battle for independence, had to be changed due to FIFA flagging it for violating its regulations on political speech.

"During the review process, FIFA determined that certain visual elements could be interpreted differently under its equipment regulations and ultimately requested modifications to the design.

While this interpretation differed from our intention, Saeta respected the process and implemented the final requirements communicated by FIFA," the shirt manufacturer Saeta said.

Second appearance

One of the least developed countries in the world, Haiti is often described as a failed state. But the Caribbean island of 12 million people, which was ravaged by a devastating earthquake in 2010, will be making its second appearance at the FIFA World Cup this year.

The country has had no elected officials since 2023. It is infamous for gang activity that controls almost the whole of the capital Port-au-Prince and there are numerous travel advisories saying one should not visit the country beset with crimes like kidnappings.

Unrest back home

Terrorist activity, civil unrest, widespread hunger and limited health care are other disincentives. So, it's no surprise that Sebastian Migne, the coach who guided Haiti to the biggest stage in international football for the first time since 1974, has never set foot on the troubled nation since his appointment 18 months ago. The national team has to play its home matches 500 miles away in Curacao, an island nation just off the coast of Venezuela in South America.

Cyber fraudsters luring fans, warns Kerala Police

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Thiruvananthapuram, June 11

KERALA POLICE ON Thursday warned of cyber fraud targeting football fans through fake OTT apps offering free access to FIFA World Cup 2026 matches on social media.

The State Police Media Centre, in a statement, said the fraud begins under the guise of attractive advertisements such as "FIFA World Cup Live Free", "1,000+ TV Channels Free", and "Premium OTT Content Free" on social media platforms like Facebook, Instagram, Telegram, WhatsApp, and YouTube.

The advertisements provide fake application download links that resemble official apps under various names such as HZTV, OPEN TV, NBT, MAX TV, XM TV, and TUBI TV, the statement said.

After installing these applications, users are prompted to agree to software updates, subscription activation, and enabling various services.

Once the user agrees to these prompts, the app obtains permissions such as Accessibility Service, Screen Overlay, and Notification Access.

This weakens the phone's security systems, allowing fraudsters to access various applications without the owner's knowledge or consent, the police said.

Subsequently, the fraudsters gain control of the phone and illegally withdraw money from users' bank accounts through UPI applications, it said.

In its advisory to the public, the police warned against installing application files obtained through social media to watch FIFA World Cup matches and advised downloading apps only from official platforms such as Google Play Store and Apple App Store.

Geneva, June 11

SOMALI REFEREE OMAR Artan who was barred by the United States from the World Cup was picked on Thursday to showcase UEFA Super Cup game in August.

European soccer body UEFA said Artan will referee the August 12 game between Champions League winner Paris Saint-Germain and Aston Villa, the Europa League winner. The game will be in Salzburg, Austria.

"Football is made to connect people and UEFA wants to show its respect to Omar and his outstanding officiating skills," UEFA president Aleksander Ceferin said in a statement.

Artan got a hero's welcome returning to Somalia on Wednesday, days after he was refused entry in Miami and questioned for 11 hours by US authorities despite being picked by FIFA for World Cup duty. He was sent away on a flight to Turkey.

US officials claimed Artan had connections to terror organisations, though without providing proof.

His treatment heightened concerns about US immigration policy around the World Cup that was criticised by the United Nations' top human rights official on Wednesday.

FIFA president Gianni Infantino said on Wednesday it was powerless to prevent Artan's ordeal, and "we need to respect that we are not the kings of the world who can rule over governments and police forces."

The 34-year-old referee was judged the best in Africa last season and worked the decisive game in the continent's Champions League final last month.

Ceferin said UEFA worked on the plan with the Confederation of African Football and its president Patrice Motsepe.
